

STORM WATER MANAGEMENT WEBSITES

<http://esc.orst.edu>. Information about water-related educational materials is available from this website which is maintained by Extension and Experiment Communications, Oregon State University.

<http://www.mmsd.com>. This, the Milwaukee Metropolitan Sewerage District's website, provides many ways to learn more about SWM.

<http://www.stormwatercenter.net/>. One very instructive feature of this USEPA site is a set of "Stormwater Slideshows" covering many aspects of SWM. Also included are a large glossary and "Pollution Prevention" fact sheets.

<http://www.watershedkit.com>. Source of Make Your Own Watershed Kit.

<http://www.wef.org>. The Water Environment Federation's website includes sections for elementary, secondary and college/university students and for teachers.
